London 7th Jan 1867.

Dear W. Garrison.

127

I am glad you got off to Manchester in good time, and that you find yourself so comfortably located.

We intend to publish the proceedings of Saturday in a volume, and if the money be forthcoming to illustrate it with your photograph.

I have written to Ellick & Fry and will enquire if they publish your portraits to sell, it should be a good one.

I will forward your letters to the places and at the times you have mentioned. The best of the leading articles and the breakfast will be reproduced in the volume. Others I will preserve for you. Believe me,

Yours very faithfully

William Lloyd Garrison Esq.
